

American Atheists Gone Wild

Bill In the News (National Catholic Register):

Apparently, multiple women have made accusations against David Silverman, President of “American Atheists, Inc.” – the premier association, as they claim, of non-believers. It was founded by Madelyn O’Hair.

The board of directors of American Atheists also pointed out on their website that Silverman was removed because of “explosive written allegations of sexual assault and undisclosed conflicts of interest.” They never specifically described the crimes of which Silverman had been accused in their April 13 statement. It was the news website Buzzfeed that listed the gory details.

In their own press release, the Catholic League further pointed out that Silverman is being investigated by the very same board for allegedly not disclosing “financial and personal conflicts of interest relating to the promotion of his book, Fighting God: An Atheist Manifesto for a Religious World, and the appointment to a senior position of a woman with whom Silverman was allegedly having a sexual relationship.” READ MORE HERE
