

APOLOGY GRANTED

In the last issue of Catalyst, we mentioned that Bill Donohue had written a letter to Dr. John M. Lilley, president of Baylor University, wanting to know what Lilley found so funny about a male student who dressed up as a pregnant nun; a photo of the “nun” appeared on the front page of The Lariat, the campus newspaper.

Lilley wrote to Donohue on May 22 saying, “In a recent letter to the Most Reverend Gregory M. Aymond of the Catholic Church of Central Texas, I offered my apology for the incident assuring him that, ‘the individual pictured in no way represents Baylor University.’ I offer the same apology and assurance to you and the Catholic League.”
