

Atheist Hate Speech

To learn what's on the minds of contemporary atheists, check out Mark Morford's piece in today's San Francisco Chronicle. With lines such as "they [Christians] raise their flags and cock their Bibles and pat themselves on their arrogant backs, conveniently forgetting that the only real difference between radical Islam and Christianity's own bloody, murderous past is, well, a bit of time, with a splash of geography" he illustrates the hate so many hold toward people of faith.
