

'Atheists strike out at Christmas': Catholic League unveils new billboard to counter FFRF

Bill in the News (The Christian Post): "We decided to display the billboard as a direct refutation of the annual Winter Solstice display in Madison, Wisconsin, that is erected in the Capitol building by Freedom From Religion Foundation," Donohue said. "Their stunt is done to compete with, and therefore neuter, the meaning of the Nativity scene at Christmas. The billboard will be up for two weeks, until Dec. 29."

Donohue told CP that he hopes "our billboard emboldens Catholics, letting them know that we will not be bullied by our adversaries." READ MORE HERE