

BAPTISTS CENSURE DISNEY

In June, the Southern Baptist Convention voted to censure the Walt Disney Company for its pro-homosexual agenda and for its less than family-friendly image of Catholics. It criticized the Disney policy of extending health benefits to the same-sex partners of employees and also took aim at Disney for the movie Priest, which, the resolution stated, was unfair to Catholics. The league conveyed its thanks to the Southern Baptists for their effort.