

Catholic League Announces Creation of Advisory Board

The Catholic League is proud to announce the names of its new board of advisors. Unlike the board of directors, the board of advisors does not oversee the operations of the League, rather it acts as a sounding board for the League's president. All of the members are prominent lay Catholics associated with reputable institutions. In the interest of brevity, we only comment on their status, not on their many achievements.

BOARD OF ADVISORS

Helen Alvare, Pro-Life Director, National Catholic Conference of Bishops

William Bentley Ball, Distinguished Catholic Attorney

Linda Chavez, Distinguished Catholic Scholar

Robert Destro, Distinguished Catholic University Law Professor

Dinesh D'Souza, Distinguished Catholic Scholar

Robert George, Distinguished Princeton University

Professor Mary Ann Glendon, Distinguished Harvard Law

Professor Dolores Bernadette Grier, Vice-Chancellor, Archdiocese of New York

John P. Hale, Distinguished Catholic Attorney

Alan Keyes, Distinguished Catholic Scholar

Stephen Krason, Distinguished Catholic Scholar

Michael Novak, Distinguished Catholic Scholar

Patrick Riley, Distinguished Catholic Scholar

Robert Royal, Distinguished Catholic Scholar

William Simon, President, J.M. Ohlin Foundation

Paul Vitz, Distinguished New York University Professor

Walter Weber, Distinguished Attorney, American Center for Law and Justice

George Weigel, Distinguished Catholic Scholar