

Catholic League Report: Amnesty International's Idea Of Rights

When we think about human rights, we think about the right of individuals to live freely, without undue restrictions. In this episode of "Catholic League Report" president Bill Donohue and director of communications Mike McDonald discuss Amnesty International and those who disagree on the meaning of human rights.

To watch, click here.