

Catholic League Report: Normalizing “Black English” Is Racist

In California some leftist educators are calling for the schools to teach what is known as “Black English” in the classroom. In this episode of “Catholic League Report” president Bill Donohue and director of communications Mike McDonald discuss what exactly “Black English” is and why attempts to allow for it are inherently racist and discriminatory towards black students.

To watch, click here.