

CBS STIFLES FREE SPEECH; PROMOTES ANTI-CATHOLICISM

CBS Outdoor, a division of the CBS Corporation, recently posted anti-Catholic billboards paid for by the Eternal Gospel Church, a breakaway sect of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, along Interstate 65 in Jeffersonville, Indiana; the town is located on the Indiana-Kentucky border across the river from Louisville. Here is what they say:

SATURDAY the TRUE Lord's Day

Sunday will be enforced as

THE MARK OF THE BEAST!

Anti-Christ Revealed – Free Book 1-866-POPE-MMM

SATURDAY the True Lord's Day

Changed by Antichrist      Dan. 7:25

Free Book 1-866-POPE-MMM

Note: MMM is 666 on the telephone, a.k.a "The Mark of the Beast." Click [here for pictures.]

Catholic League president Bill Donohue explained his response today:

"Yesterday, Catholic League director of communications Kiera McCaffrey spoke to Jake Logsdon, a representative at CBS Outdoor's Louisville office, about placing a billboard along I-65 in Jeffersonville, Indiana. He said he would take some pictures of the available billboards and send them to her to make a selection. The cost was $4,000 for one month, or $6,000 for two months. He said a graphic designer would work the ad up for us. Kiera said we wanted the billboard to say: 'CBS

Sponsors Anti-Catholicism.' He questioned why, and when told about the Eternal Gospel Church's ad, said he'd get back to us. Today we were denied. He said he talked to a higher up and was told that CBS cannot approve of anything that is defamatory of CBS.

"CBS has previously denied some PETA signs they found objectionable, and it won't allow us to tell the truth about CBS. But it has no problem promoting anti-Catholicism."

Contact CBS Outdoor CEO Wally Kelly, wally.kelly@cbsoutdoor.com

UPDATE: CBS PULLS ANTI-CATHOLIC BILLBOARDS