President

Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights

On January 25, the same day that Newsmax announced that it had been unjustly sacked by the AT&T-owned DirectTV, I called on Catholics to rally to its side. Specifically, I asked them to cancel their subscription to DirectTV and acquire a new carrier.

Subsequently, I was followed by a host of prominent Americans who registered their criticism of DirectTV, many of whom called for a boycott. Politicians, corporate leaders, TV personalities, sports figures, actors, lawyers, religious leaders—a Who's Who of American public figures—lambasted DirectTV, calling on them to carry Newsmax again.

It's time to keep the pressure on. If you haven't already cancelled your DirectTV subscription, please do so now. Not only is Newsmax a Catholic-friendly source, it is the nation's fourth largest cable television news network. To be singled out for political reasons is un-American and unacceptable.
