

DONOHUE TESTIFIES ON DOUGLASS STATUE

To read Catholic League president Bill Donohue's November 22 testimony before the New York City Mayoral Advisory Committee on Art, Monuments and Markers, click here.

Donohue's statement seeks a reconsideration of the work of Frederick Douglass, the ex-slave turned abolitionist. He wants the public to learn of Douglass' anti-Catholicism, especially his animus against Irish Catholics.

Donohue emphatically does not seek, nor want, the City of New York to remove a statue of Douglass from Central Park. The Catholic League is opposed to cultural cleansing, especially when orchestrated by the government.
