

JOAN RIVERS RIPS GAY PRIESTS AGAIN

Bill Donohue comments on the June 27 edition of "Fashion Police" on E!:

On Friday night, Joan Rivers remarked on a short plaid skirt worn by Katy Perry: "She is so much a Catholic schoolgirl that three priests stopped her to say, 'you're cute, do you have a brother?'"

There is not a week that goes by that Rivers doesn't attack homosexual priests. Whether she wants to or not, she will be remembered as an old lady turned bigot. What a way to finish her career.

Contact Kira Wagner, director of publicity:
kira.wagner@nbcuni.com