

LETTERS OVERLOAD

We are getting deluged with letters again, but keep on sending them. While not everything is acted upon, every letter is read and action is taken on many of the issues brought to our attention. Indeed, our members alert us to instances of Catholic-bashing that we could never track all by ourselves. But please be patient if you don't hear from us right away. And please send us as much information (name, date, publication or TV/radio show) that you can. It just makes our job that much easier. We try to answer as many questions as we can, but given staff limitations, we can't keep up with every request. Try to focus your questions on issues that are central to the Catholic League and not on matters that deal with some aspect of Church history, etc. Thanks very much.??
