

MAMDANI'S RULINGS BEAR CLOSE SCRUTINY

Bill Donohue

We have made plain our grave concerns about Zohran Mamdani (click here), and now that he will become the mayor of New York City on January 1, 2026, we will keep a close eye on his rulings, especially as they bear on religious liberty and Catholic interests.

Specifically, we will report on his personnel picks and policy decisions, holding him accountable. This means we will not wait until January to track him. Moreover, we will provide our email subscribers and Catholic League members with contact information, so they can have their voice heard. We will post our findings on our website under "Mamdani Watch."

Mamdani is poised to be much more than a local figure, which explains why we will monitor his every move.
