There's a club in Washington D.C. called "Between Friends" that likes to host after-hours dance parties for homosexuals. It recently decided to throw a party called "Sunday Mass." An advertisement for the event showed a picture of Christ with the inscription, "Get on your knees, say your prayers, and beg because, boi...God has spoken."

We wrote the proprietor wanting to know whether he has plans to host a Jewish or Muslim service, but he hasn't replied. Somehow we think we'll never hear from this guy. We just hope he got our point.
