

QUOTABLE

"The cultural elite has rejected traditional Judaism and Christianity, not out of petulance but because it holds the Bible to be immoral."

"We should strike directly at the worst part of today's pro-homosexual slant: We should outlaw sex education in the public schools."

Yale professor David Gelernter, Wall Street Journal, August 13.

Gelernter teaches computer science, which explains why he hasn't been corrupted like those in the humanities and social sciences.
