

Staff Grows Again

The Catholic League's New York headquarters' staff has grown again in order to meet the increasing demands of continued growth. Alex Mejia will be working in member services and will double as staff photographer.