

Tolerance, Anyone?

Today's New York Times contains an article by Kenneth Woodward titled "The Presidency's Mormon Moment." In the piece, Woodward discusses polling data of likely voters in the upcoming presidential election. He reports that "Among those who identify themselves as liberal, almost half say they would not support a Mormon for president."