

Trump Was Right to Blame Both Sides

Bill in the news: Newsmax.com

President Trump was right to call out the extremists on both sides of the Charlottesville, Virginia tragedy, but more needs to be said about those on the left who helped to bring it about.

The crazies on the right – the KKK, the neo-Nazis and the white supremacists – have been justly condemned by virtually everyone, save for their sick sympathizers. But we will not make progress if the role of the left is ignored. Their censorial agenda is wide ranging.

It is the left that has led the fight to scrub the public square free of religious symbols. From banning Christmas songs in school events, to lawsuits against the display of nativity scenes and the Ten Commandments on public property, the left has been waging war on our Judeo-Christian heritage for decades. READ MORE HERE