

Virginia Parents Overwhelmingly Reject Gender Ideology-Based Sex Ed

Bill In The News (Breitbart):

Bill Donohue, president of the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights in the United States, weighed in on the Fairfax County FLE advisory committee's recommendation to omit clergy from the list of trusted adults suggested to struggling teens. In an op-ed at Eurasia Review, Donohue wrote:

The list of changes reads like a page out of the gay rights agenda, so thoroughly out of touch with reality are they. Before assessing them, the most pressing issue for the Catholic League is the proposal to eliminate the clergy from the list of competent advisors to young persons who are confused about sexuality.
