

WEINSTEIN'S ANTI-CATHOLIC BIGOTRY RUNS DEEP

Catholic League president Bill Donohue comments on Harvey Weinstein's bigotry:

As the Catholic League has pointed out before, Harvey Weinstein has a long history of making anti-Catholic movies, but only recently have we learned that his bigotry is not reserved to his artistic endeavors.

"Sopranos" star Annabella Sciorra has accused Weinstein of raping her. Some weeks after it allegedly occurred, she ran into him at a restaurant. She says she tried to talk to him about what happened. She told the jury last week what his reply was: "That's what all the nice Catholic girls say."

This shows how deeply ingrained is his bigotry. It also shows how this story, which was widely reported, was received by the media. Not one media outlet characterized his remark for what it is—a vile anti-Catholic slur.

If an Irish Catholic producer made one anti-Semitic movie after another, and was then charged with saying, "That's what all the nice Jewish girls say"—in reply to fending off an accusation of rape—the media would be all over it.

If Weinstein is a bigot, what does that make the media?
