

FED UP WITH CATHOLIC BASHING?

Most Catholics don't feel the pinch of anti-Catholicism at work or in school. But that is deceptive: Attacks against the Catholic Church are mounting. Priests, in particular, are being libeled and slandered on a daily basis, all because of the deeds of a minority, most of whom are either dead or out of ministry.

Article 5 of NATO says that an attack on one nation must be seen as an attack on all member nations. The same goes for the Catholic Church:

An attack on the institutional Church must be seen as an attack on all individual Catholics.

At the Catholic League, we fight Catholic bashing, whether it stems from the media, Hollywood, the artistic community, government, or colleges and universities. We publish our work in our monthly (10 times a year) journal, Catalyst.

Please consider joining the Catholic League now.

For $30 a year ($20 for seniors) you will receive Catalyst and learn about the latest assaults on our Church, and what we are doing about it. There is no other Catholic organization that can match our string of victories.

Check out our website, www.catholicleague.org, to find out how to join. Or you can call (212) 371-3191.

The Church needs doers, not spectators, in this war on Catholicism.
