

YOKO ONO MISFIRES

On May 16, Yoko Ono, John Lennon's widow, tore pages from a Bible and passed them into a crowd in downtown New York. After vice president Bernadette Brady and others complained to the press, Ono issued an apology, pledging that she "will not be repeating this in future performances."